Riverside takes sixth in national digital awards

RIVERSIDE, Calif. – The City of Riverside is the sixth best large city in the nation for digital services in a recent survey conducted by the National League of Cities and the Center for Digital Government.

The awards will be given out during the NLC 2008 Congress of Cities and Exposition Nov. 13 in Orlando, Fla. Riverside placed sixth in the 250,000 or more population city category.

“We faced strong competition and we’re pleased to be recognized for this honor,” said Chief Information Officer Steve Reneker. “Winning awards like this recognizes the city council’s commitment to expanding technology to benefit city residents.”
